SOLD FIVE TRAWLERS

Because They Were Not Profitable In Competition With the Diesel Trawlers

United States Maritime Commission announces receipt of an application from the Portland Trawling Company for approval of the sale of five trawlers to the French Line. The applicant, a subsidiary of Atlantic Coast Fisheries Company, New York, stated in its application that it had offered these steam trawlers for sale because they were not profitable when operated in competition with diesel trawlers.

The vessels, all of which are approximately 130 feet long, were built in 1919 and 1920 and are coal burners. The application stated that no American citizen has shown any interest in purchasing the trawlers involved which are registered under the names, Brant, Cool, Loon, Penguin and Plover.

Carl Leighton and Herbert Alexander have returned from a brief hunting trip in the Prentiss region. They brought home a doe.

Kickapoo And Travis

Efforts Are Being Made To Secure Dockage Here For Both Ships

Rockland Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the city authorities in the effort to secure adequate docking facilities for the Kickapoo and the Travis which Coast Guard authorities wish to locate at this port. The permanent location here of the two ships would be a great boon to the great number of fishermen, pleasure and commercial craft which ply the Penobscot and adjacent waters. It would also give a welcome addition to the city's population.

Every effort is being made to meet the requirements though there are many obstacles to be overcome. Kickapoo draws 14 feet of water and Travis needs about 10 feet. The berth formerly occupied by Kickapoo was a section of Tillson's Wharf and this will be satisfactory if it can be made available. Several other properties are being studied and soundings made but in most cases there is not water enough even for the Travis. A generous offer from Snow's is being studied to see if there is sufficient depth of water.

Mayor Veazie is working closely with the Chamber's committee which includes John M. Pomeroy, Homer E. Robinson, Charles H. Berry and John M. Richardson.

KNOX COUNTY SHORES

Representative Ralph O. Brewster was informed yesterday that $21,037 of W.P.A. money has been allocated for a national archives in Knox, Kennebec, Penobscot, Sagadahoc and Cumberland counties.

The project is a non-construction. Federal project consisting of a complete descriptive inventory, listing index and file of Federal records in the Customs Houses at Portland, Belfast, Bangor and Rockland, with duplicates.

There will be deposited in the National Archives Building here, with other Federal archives. Duplicates will be available for libraries, educational institutions and historical societies.

[EDITORIAL]

THE VACILLATING BORAH

That distinguished Idaho Senator William E. Borah serves notice thus early in the Presidential campaign that he will "exercise complete liberty of action in 1940." Which means that the venerable statesman who uses the Republican trade mark is getting ready to vote for a Democrat. Borah is consistent in only one respect—he is unlikely to support Roosevelt again, being frankly opposed to a third term. If the Idaho statesman had remained regular at the height of his career, instead of continually acting as the "off horse" he could undoubtedly have come to be President of the United States. "Independent" he calls himself; idiosyncratic we call it.

PREACHING VS. PRACTICING

It is easier to preach than to practice what we preach. Take for instance the case of Robert M. Dole, meteorologist for the U. S. Weather Bureau, whose forecast Monday advised all motorists that "motor cars should be protected in the open." But Mr. Dole forgot something; he forgot to put some anti-freeze in his car, and when he motored into Portland the next day it was behind a boiling radiator. He was quite forcibly reminded of his delinquency.

FROM OPPOSITE SIDES

The Herald Tribune Bureau in Washington has been indulging in a little straw vote practice. Republican members of Congress asked for their opinion as to the next Democratic candidate for President expressed the belief that President Roosevelt or Paul V. McNutt would be nominated. Democrats asked as to the probable Republican nominee indicated their belief that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan would win over Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio by about a 10 to 8 margin. But meantime it was stated that Vice President Garner's friends would push his candidacy irrespective of whether President Roosevelt sought a third term. And a hint is being dropped that Congressman Joe Martin, Republican floor leader, might be included in the possibilities.

THE EUROPEAN WAR STATUS

There seems to be no degree of definiteness about the war situation in Europe. The Germans continue to pick off British ships and to make sporadic airship attacks, but the battle on the land appears to be getting nowhere, and in fact is the greatest mystery in the whole situation. Diplomats gamble with the fate of the smaller nations and men who stand high in the field of statesmanship make vain peace overtures. Who would venture to predict where the new year will find the world sitting.

MORE "WARMONGERS"

(Herald Tribune)

How hopelessly mistaken we all are in believing that two and two add up to four or that black is not white may be gleaned from any glance these days at "The Daily Worker." Just now exercising this coy mouthpiece of Comrade Stalin is little Finland's refusal to sign away its sovereignty to Soviet Russia after the manner of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia. So we find spread across the front page of yesterday's issue this eight-column headline: "Finnish Government Speeds Drive For War." In subordinate position is the line "Nation Being Driven To Financial Ruin By Warmongers."

This type of assault on the human intellect from totalitarian sources is, of course, old stuff. It is simply a phase of the ruthlessness which dominates their policies, domestic or foreign, and to be expected, like air raids on defenseless villages, the sinking of the Athenia, the partition of Poland or the "purging" of inconvenient citizens.

But one wonders at its continued lack of variety and inventiveness. Hitler for more than two years has been using the term "warmonger" to describe the leaders of every small country which has shown a disposition to resist his egotism. Was it necessary that Stalin, in joining hands with him and copying his methods, should adopt his language as well? Surely it would have been cute of this champion of peace and plunder had he shown some imagination and originality in this department of his evangelical effort. Certainly, over here, and especially in relation to the Finns, it might have helped us in telling him from his twin. As it is, we are being forced to look forward to the day when he goes the whole hog, as did Il Duce at one time, and teaches his soldiers the goose-step.

Brilliant Bates College Graduate Defends the Modern System

Edwin Edwards, talented Bates College graduate who won a scholarship in France only to have it nullified, for the time being at least, by the war in Europe, was guest speaker at the Lions meeting yesterday, introduced by his grandfather, Henry A. Howard, who was chairman of the November entertainment committee.

He spoke in defense of the modern Arts and Crafts College which has been criticized for almost everything from communism to atheism. "The charge that colleges (Maine colleges at least) are overrun with Communists is most unjust," according to the speaker. "The professors are termed radical, but the most radical thing I found among them was 51 Republicans and one Democrat. Bates allows complete freedom of speech. There was one Atheist, but even he believed in the principles of Christianity."

The speaker referred to Bates' compulsory chapel where a short but inspirational religious service is held. He referred to High School as more or less of a playground to college as an institution where work has to be done—where one can learn how to live a life and live it thoroughly.

Guests yesterday were Justice Arthur Chapman of Portland, Rev. A. E. Luce and King Lion Carswell of the Camden-Rockport Lions Club. Dr. Carswell extended an invitation to the ladies night which his club is to hold at Tranquility Grange hall, Lincolnville, Nov. 28. Dinner will be served at 6:30. Members are welcome whether accompanied by ladies or not.

Duke Annis and Allan J. Murray were named as members of the December entertainment committee. The Lions stood in silence with bowed heads for one minute as a tribute to their late brother, Judge Edward K. Gould, long a popular and faithful member of the Club.

A FINE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

Nothing But Harmony Marked Renomination Of Mayor Veazie Last Night

Mayor Edward R. Veazie, nearing the completion of his first term was last night re-nominated by a surprisingly large caucus, in which harmony and enthusiasm were clearly registered. In a brief speech of acceptance His Honor said that he was doubly appreciative of the honor which had been conferred upon him.

Mayor E. R. Veazie who was again chosen as the Republican standard bearer.

"You have signified your approval of our administration of affairs the past two years," said Mayor Veazie, "and I assure you of my continued efforts if elected."

The caucus was called to order by the chairman of the Republican city committee, Cleveland Sleeper Jr. and organization was effected with former alderman Arthur L. Orne as chairman and County Attorney Jerome C. Burrows as secretary.

Endorsement of the city committee selected in Monday night's ward caucuses was the first act. The new city committee is made up thus:

- Ward 1—Earl U. Chaples.
- Ward 2—Arthur D. Fish.
- Ward 3—Cleveland Sleeper, Jr.
- Ward 4—Harold Quinn.
- Ward 5—Ervin Curtis.
- Ward 6—Harry D. Phillips.
- Ward 7—Carl O. Nelson.

Mayor Veazie's name was placed in nomination by Frank A. Winslow who had that honor two years ago. He referred to the majority as a thankless position, carrying with it the responsibility of disbursing an annual budget of $260,000 and the impossibility of pleasing everyone. Speaking of the Administration's achievements he said:

"During the past two years it has reduced the temporary loans of the city $7500 and has refunded three bond issues. Because of this reduction in the temporary loans and because it has been successful in getting a lower rate of interest both on the loans and the refunded bond issues, the interest charges have been reduced $3000.

"It has been successful in the collection of taxes, collecting more than the commitment each year and has reduced materially the amount of uncollected taxes of back years.

"It has continued the road tarring program and now has at least two more miles of improved streets than when Mayor Veazie took office. It has had accepted for maintenance by the State, four miles of road which would otherwise have to be maintained by the municipality.

"In co-operation with the Federal and State Governments it has accomplished much in the way of permanent improvement, a few of which are, the construction of four miles of city streets, one mile of cement sidewalk, 4000 feet of sewer and most important of all, the stone bridge on Limerock street which meant the elimination of a very serious hazard."

The nomination was promptly seconded by Freeman S. Young, who referred to the active part which Mayor Veazie had played in securing the new industry at the Northend, employing now 220 persons, and of his present efforts in endeavoring to secure another industry.

Augustus Huntley, L. A. Walker and A. F. McAlary were appointed a committee to receive sort and count votes, but there was no necessity for their services, as the nomination was made by acclamation.

F. A. Winslow, Robert M. Packard and Dr. G. W. Soule were named as a committee to escort Mayor Veazie to the hall, and there the candidate was given a fine ovation.

VERDICT FOR CHAPMANS

Damages of $500 were awarded by a Cumberland Superior Court jury Wednesday on two $5,000 damage suits brought by Superior Court Justice Arthur Chapman and Mrs. Chapman against the Portland Country Club. The jury set liability of $250 for the defendants in each case. Both cases were based on a broken ankle suffered by Mrs. Chapman Oct. 12, 1938, when she fell on the Country Club porch.

The president of the recently organized chapter of B'nai Brith is Sam Savitt, a local merchant who has affiliated actively with local affairs since coming to Rockland, having also been elected a director of the Chamber of Commerce. The other officers are: Alan Grossman, vice president; Harry Gerrish, financial secretary; Sidney Segal, secretary; Benjamin Segal, treasurer; Mitchell Levy, monitor; Sam Shaffer, assistant monitor; Edward Gordon, warden; Isidor Gordon, Jack Green and Jake Smalley, trustees. The officers were installed by Dr. Elias Caplin and degree staff of Portland. Supper was served at the Synagogue.

During his recent visit to Rockland Mr. Dunbar (formerly of Dunbar & Sullivan) told me how they manufactured nitro glycerine and dynamite at what has since been known as "Dynamite Beach" on the northern Owl's Head shore. The process would perhaps interest only a few readers, but enough was manufactured for the blasting of nearly 65,000 cubic yards of shore.

Over in the western part of the State the "For Sale" sign has been attached to "Quillcoke," erstwhile home of Kate Douglas Wiggin Riggs. I visited this historic estate two or three years ago, and found it closed, as the day was Sunday. A reasonable tip generally brings satisfactory results and the negro servant was much more affable when I produced one. So I was privileged to make a closer inspection of the literary atmosphere.

A well known Rockland man celebrated Armistice Day in quite a different manner than he had expected. At noon he went to the basement to do some work, and was still there when his wife, ignorant of his whereabouts, looked the cellar door and left the house for the afternoon. Not wishing to break down the door, and too generously proportioned to make his escape through the cellar windows, Clarence resigned himself to his fate, and instead of devoting himself to the futile profanity that many other men would have done, he devoted his enforced subterranean stay by cleaning up the cellar and doing other odd jobs. And did he have nice hot biscuits for supper!

We were talking about coincidences the other day and one of my good friends who holds down a county job recalled one. "I was coming home from Lewiston," said he, "called by the death of my father-in-law." As he passed through the outskirts of Togus a woman rushed forth and asked him to stop at the next house and tell the woman her father had just died.

Rubinstein's Visit

Rockland Musicians Were Guests Of the Schumann Club In Bangor

(From the Bangor Daily News)
Members of the Rubinstein club of Rockland were guest artists at a delightful musicale presented before members of the Schumann club at Symphony House Tuesday evening. The varied program found the artists in splendid form, and showing excellent technique, tone and range.

The musicale opened with a piano duo by Mrs. Nathalie Snow and Miss Dorothy Lawry playing a composition by Von Weber "Invitation to the Dance."

Mrs. Marianne Bullard gave three vocal selections by Brahms, which were enthusiastically received. She was accompanied by Mrs. Faith Berry.

A Prelude—C-sharp Minor by Rachmaninoff was brilliantly given by Miss Dorothy Sherman, who showed unusual artistry.

Two vocal selections, "Ah Love But a Day" by Gilbert and "Iris" by Wolf were delightfully rendered by Miss Margaret Simmons, her sweet soprano voice being much enjoyed by the audience. She was accompanied by Mrs. Nettie Averill.

Two piano selections by Shumann played by Mrs. Charlotte Hopkins were well received, showing excellent technique and tone. Mrs. Nettie Frost pleased the audience with three varied vocal selections, her accompanist being Mrs. Faith Berry. Mrs. Blanche Morton gave a musical reading, "The Madonna at Palos," accompanied by Mrs. Nettie Averill. Mrs. Morton was excellent in her reading and was well received by her audience. She responded with an encore, "The Americans Come" by Fay Foster.

At the close of the program Mrs. Faith Berry and Mrs. Nettie Averill presented a piano and organ rendition of Sonata-D Minor, First Movement, by Auguste Reinhard, delightfully given and a most fitting close to an excellent program.

Preceding the musicale a short business meeting was held. Mrs. Bernice M. Sawyer, president presiding. Two new members were accepted. Mrs. John Chadwick and Mrs. James Macdonald. Mrs. Samuel Harris, a former member of the club, was re-instated. Mrs. Ethel Cameron, district director, will announce soon the date of a district meeting which will be held here in

In Superior Court

Court did not convene until Tuesday at 2 p. m.

The case of the State vs. Victor Maki, formerly of New York on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, went to trial Tuesday afternoon before a drawn jury. Theodore M. Strong foreman. Officer Christoffersen testified that on Saturday afternoon, October 14, he was notified that there had been an accident on Route 1, at the junction of the "Buttermilk Lane" road. He went to the scene of the accident and found that two automobiles had been in collision, one of which was owned and operated by the respondent. He stated that there was an odor of alcohol on Maki's breath.

State Patrolman Roper testified that he was called to the accident and he noted that Maki was unsteady in his walk; that he did not talk with the respondent until he had been taken to the police station but at that time there was an odor of alcoholic liquor on his breath. Deputy Marshal Richardson and Officer Philbrook also testified that there was an odor of liquor on Maki's breath.

The respondent testified that he saw front line service during the war and since that time any loud noise or excitement causes him to become very nervous. He stated that on the day of the accident he had been to Rockland to purchase groceries and was on his way to Tenants Harbor; that he had had one glass of beer with his dinner before leaving Rockland. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., appeared for the respondent; County Attorney J. C. Burrows for the State.

The case of the State vs. Peter Costello and Ira DeGrasse, both of Portland, charged with breaking and entering and larceny in the night time, went on trial late Wednesday afternoon before a drawn jury. Theodore M. Strong foreman. Arthur Philbrook testified that he is a buyer of lobsters for the American Lobster Company of Rockland; that he buys lobsters from many lobstermen and they are kept in a car at Matineux until a smack calls for them. June 28 he checked the lobsters in the car and the weight was 1290 pounds. July 2 he went to the car and nearly all the lobsters were missing from one partition of the car, and upon weighing the remainder he found only 604 pounds. He stated that he locks the car and that on the morning when he found the lobsters missing he noticed that the staple had been drawn from that portion of the car where the lobsters had been and then had been replaced.

Ralph Hanscom of Portland stated that he was at work on Sunday, July 3, in his office at Brown's Wharf in Portland and that he bought 500 pounds of "doubtful" lobsters from Ira DeGrasse and Bangor. Miss Jane Wooster, a student at Hannibal Hamlin school and a Junior Red Cross member gave an unusually inspiring talk in connection with the Red Cross drive for membership and was enthusiastically received.

The Schumann club members entertained at a delightful social hour held in the Pullen room of Symphony House after the musicale. Tea was served from an attractively appointed tea table, yellow chrysanthemums and tapers being used in decoration. Mrs. Bernice M. Sawyer and Mrs. Ethel Cameron presided. There were over 50 present at this social affair. Members of the Rubinstein club present, who did not take part in the program were Mrs. Grace Strout, Mrs. Ruth Colmer, Mrs. Ruth George, Mrs. A. J. Bird, Mrs. Lottie McLaughlin, Mrs. Lillian Joyce and Miss Mary Lawry. Mrs. Helen Godsoe, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair was assisted by Miss Margaret Ryan, Mrs. Frances Devoe, Mrs. Anna Cameron, Mrs. Meretta Flinders, Mrs. Marguerite Dinsmore, Miss Virginia Wardwell.

Peter Costello and he paid $85 for them. He stated that he paid the money to DeGrasse.

Frank Hallowell, fish warden, stated that he had investigated the case and that the respondents had denied having anything to do with the lobsters.

The civil automobile negligence suit brought by Albert Maker of South Thomaston against Lawrence Davis of Waldoboro has been settled out of court by agreement of the parties. This involved an accident which happened Sept. 24, 1939, when plaintiff was walking on the Atlantic Highway, route 1, when it is alleged he was struck by a car owned and operated by the defendant. A. Alan Grossman and Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., appeared for the plaintiff and Charles T.

Kaler of Washington for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was tried Wednesday before a drawn jury. Harold W. Look foreman. State Patrolman Tripp testified that he arrested the respondent in Washington Sept. 17, 1939. He stated that Kaler stopped the car and got out of the driver's seat and staggered around over the road and was on the other side of the car when he got hold of him. The respondent's defense was that he was sitting in the back of the car and that he got out on the driver's side—but the back seat of the car. The jury reported a verdict of "guilty." Frank A. Nov. 22—Annual fair of Pratt Memorial Methodist Church.

Another turkey shoot will be held next Sunday, all day, at the Winston Farm, South Hope, Route 17.

Members of the Junior Women's Club are reminded that dues must be paid at the December meeting
(Dec. 4) as the club urgently needs the funds.

Rockland City Band and Rockland Lodge of Elks have another benefit beano party tonight at Community Building. This continues the highly successful series with better than ever prizes.

The Eastern Division Rifle Club is sponsoring another of its grand turkey shoots Sunday at Lothrop's Turkey Ranch in South Hope on Route 17, turn right at Grassy Pond Lothrop's famous turkeys (10 pounds or better) will be awarded.

The Baptist Men's League holds its second meeting of the season tonight, and has every reason to expect a large attendance with Congressman Ralph O. Brewster advised as guest speaker. Representative Brewster is one of the big men in Congress today—presidential caliber, as a speaker said in introducing him at a recent gathering of Eastern Maine Lions Clubs. His subject has not been announced, but the members of the League and their guests may rest assured that it will have timeliness, interest and value.

A remarkable piece of Scout craftsmanship may be seen in Gregory's window in the form of a ship's wheel, cut with a jackknife from one large piece of plywood by Henry Moorland 16, of the Red Jacket Troop of Sea Scouts.
The graining of spokes and rim with trenails in everything, even to the apparently inset handles is clever to a marked degree. Sixteen knots are illustrated on the wheel as well as rope braiding and in the center is a water color copy of the original Red Jacket for which the troop is named. Young Moorland executed every detail of the intricate task unaided.

Have and "I" and "V" to swap
for a "Y" or will buy a "Y". Mrs.

The annual meeting of the

E. Jones is hitting its stride with 14 new names already added to the list.
Associated with President Thurston will be his same efficient and co-operative officers. Vice Presidents L. E. Jones and W. F. Senter Jr., Secretary, Miss Lenore Benner and Treasurer Joseph W.

to start the new year.

We've read so many despairing letters from people who've tackled the task of making a dark, high-ceilinged enormous old Victorian house pleasant and charming that we took notes for you hard and fast when we found one the other night that had been successfully transformed. Graham and Helen Fearing have worked the miracle with their house in Newton and you can do likewise.

Miles of dark oak woodwork to contend with? They had it too, but they stripped the woodwork down to a pickled oak effect and waxed it. By adding a little lamp black to the wax they achieved a soft silvery gray... don't ask us how but that's what emerged from the operation. Ponderous carving around the mir-

Torpedo Styling

has taken America by storm

If it isn't a Pontiac it isn't a "Torpedo"

NO, "Torpedo styling" isn't a term like "four-wheel brakes" or "safety glass." It doesn't denote a development that's industry-wide—as yet! It's the colorful phrase that America adopted to describe the boldly different beauty of the biggest, smartest, most luxurious Pontiac ever built.

Without that sparkling jewel-like front-end and its cresting Silver Streak—with-out those flaring fenders fore and that artful taper aft, it could only be "just another car." But NOT A PONTIAC "TORPEDO"—with its rich interior luxury and the thrilling, thrifty eight-performance for which Pontiac is renowned. So when you can't resist the urge to own an eight with "Torpedo" styling, come in and get the only car that has it—the leader of Pontiac's 1940 line of 17 sizes and eights... all supremely smart and brilliantly beautiful!

HEATING HINTS

by John Barclay

I WANT to caution you against poking at the fire from above. Agitating the fire bed in this manner mixes the ashes with the live coals and causes the formation of clinkers. And clinkers, you know, choke the fire and prevent the free and complete burning of the coal. They also clog up the grates, making it impossible to properly shake the fire.

Clinkers may also form when some portion of the fuel bed becomes packed, due to the odd size and shape of the lumps of coal at that point. This packing prevents the free passage of air through that part of the fuel bed and clinkers form there. Fortunately, however, clinkers thus formed can be easily disposed of, by gently shaking the grates until the solid masses break up and fall into the ashpit. (20)

Pour yourself a teaspoon of Buckley's CANADOL Mixture—let it lie on your tongue a moment then swallow slowly. Feel its quick powerful pungent action spread through throat, head and bronchial tubes. Acts like a flash. Right away it starts to loosen thick, choking phlegm and up goes a clogged bronchial tube. Over 10 million bottles sold in cold wintry Canada. A single sip will tell you why. Winslow of the Courier-Gazette, who gave a very fine lecture on "Twenty-One Years Afterwards," depicting the part Knox County took in the World War, refreshing our memory and at the same time enlightening us on what to expect if we are again drawn into another conflict. Mrs. Kenneth Trask stated that her husband was the captain of the boat; that he took her to Matinicus on Saturday July 1st and they went to his parents' home and spent the night. She stated that in the evening they went down to the wharf and told DeGrasse and Costello that they would not be leaving for Portland that night and requested them to move the boat out to a mooring. She stated that her husband did not leave his mother's home that night. Next morning early she and her husband went down to the boat and together with DeGrasse and Costello they left for Portland and that they did not stop anywhere until they reached Willard and Daggett's wharf when they left the boat and went to their home.

Sheriff Ludwick testified to causing the respondents to be arrested by the Portland police department; that he questioned the men about the larceny of the lobsters and they denied knowing anything about them; and also they testified to that effect in the Municipal Court.

Costello, in defense, told that he was a guest aboard the boat, that he started drinking before leaving Portland and that the trip was a continuous round of drinking on his part. He testified that there were various trips to and from Matinicus and about Captain Trask searching for bait. He said his first knowledge of the lobster being aboard the boat was at Brown's Wharf at Portland when DeGrasse was given orders to unload them.

DeGrasse denied the larceny of the lobsters and denied knowing they were on the boat until they arrived at Brown's Wharf in Portland when Capt. Trask ordered them unloaded.

Both respondents were found guilty. A. Alan Grossman appeared for the respondents; County Attorney Burrows for the State.

Coins have enabled research experts to trace the development of hair styles, showing clearly that Roman examples in style have been adopted by moderns, except in no case could they find bobbed hair on women.

Women are playing heavy parts in this dreadful war—250,000 wives of the railway workers are learning their husbands' jobs. French women represent a most important element in national defense as conscription takes most able bodied men. English women by the thousands are entering full heartedly into war work. German mothers and daughters by the millions are driven into man's labor. They even press little children into service. Polish women did their best under severe handicap and Swiss women are learning.

A good winter's work might be carried out in some one of our excellent clubs of Rockland in a study of "know your own countryside" or possibly "know the history of your own region." Much could be obtained that would surprise and interest us all, we are told, by simply applying to the American Guide Series of the Federal Writers Project. This would help furnish clues to the most important events in different communities that would be best studied—an interesting and informative study for anyone who loves knowledge.

The Cock Crows

Their Contest Will Be Big Hit At Poultry Show—Scope Extended

The "Maine Cock Crowing Contest" which drew nearly 100 entries from the State of Maine in 1938 will be extended this year to include entries from all of the New England states. H. M. Tucker, president of the Maine State Poultry Association, announced today.

Tucker said the 1939 "Crowing Contest" will be held on the final day of the Maine State Poultry Show at the Exposition Building in Portland, Dec. 13, 14, and 15.

Several requests have been received by the association, Tucker said, from out of State people asking if they may enter this year's contest. The contest committee has felt that the great interest shown last year merits the lifting of the bars to allow contestants from all New England to enter.

Entries in the regular poultry show events come from all sections of the country as competition is open to the world," Tucker explained, "but we feel that poultry imitators should be more or less confined to New England."

Accepted for more than 35 years as one of the outstanding poultry shows of New England (second only to the Boston show) the Maine State Poultry Show this year offers the first display of poultry equipment in the show's history, according to Tucker. The "cock crowing contest" will be one of the "hits" of the show with capacity exhibits of every breed of poultry for fancier and commercial breeders.

Several requests have been received inquiring about a "hen cackling contest" to be open to women only. Tucker said this plan is being considered and if sufficient interest is shown it will be incorporated into the show's schedule.

A trip to either the New York World's Fair or the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield or the cash equivalent will be awarded to the winner, Tucker said. Last year's winners will not be eligible for a prize but will give demonstrations of the technique which won them top honors at the Show in 1938.

The contest will be held in the morning and afternoon of Dec. 15th. Amplification equipment and a raised stage will allow those attending the show to follow the contest from any position in the building.

Any man or woman, boy or girl, residing in New England may enter the contest by writing to H. M. Tucker at the State House, Augusta, Maine. Entries will close early as the number will be limited.

Bayside "Blackout"

G. H. Are Weaves A Weird and Woeful Tale Of Deserted Summer Resort

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Tod Durham has collected his last winter bill and Fred Scribner has gone home, thus bringing to an official end Bayside's summer season.

A few hardy perennials still occupy their cottages, and motorists on their way to Belfast and Bangor can see them here and there among the trees gathering windfalls of dead branches to keep the home fires glowing against the chill of this November air. For the most part however the place is deserted.

Pop Eye, Louis Drinkwater's sailboat, is high and dry on the North-east quarter of Rugles Park and a retinue of smaller craft is bunched around her, all cradled and swathed against the coming winter. These pampered toys of the idle rich rear their naked spars against the rolling clouds which daily sweep the bay, and gravely stem a rustling tide of restless autumn leaves. Lonely and forgotten they struggle bravely through recurring waves of heavy autumn dew, and friends of Mr. Drinkwater confidently predict that spring will find Pop Eye still in the lead.

Up on the golf course of the Northport Country Club wind blown spills of fragrant fir drift idly over the vacant fairways, the benches where the more gentlemanly players are wont to sit and wait for others to shoot first, are stowed away for the winter, and the place is as devoid of life as a negro cemetery in St. Petersburg, Fla., at 12 o'clock, midnight, on Halloween.

Jack McAskell's hand painted cerulean blue truck, is the busiest thing in town. It shuttles back and forth between the McAskell Supply Depot at the Hill farm on the Belfast road, and those few semi-isolated cottages where smoke still rises from the chimneys, and it is loaded to the mezzanine floor with well tailored, dry, hard wood. There isn't much room in these Bayside cottages to store over a foot of wood at a time and in consequence Mr. McAskell is kept humping. He never sits down at his radio to keep in touch with the situation in Europe, but that some nitwit runs out of wood, and of course it's up to him to see that nobody freezes to death. At $1.50 per rescue, it's good business.

The picture of the week at Bayside was the crew of traffic checkers which swarmed over the place Tuesday morning. As an example of how not to get accurate information on the number of automobiles using Bayside's streets on an average day of the season here, this survey ought to be productive of interesting results. Half a dozen young men spread out over the roads of the village, chose cozy corners on well sheltered and deserted verandahs and proceeded to count traffic. A commentary on the results obtained was voiced by one of these checkers when an automobile loomed in the distance. "Here comes the other half of the day's business," he said.

It would be a mistake for anyone to think that this popular summer resort relapses into unconsciousness when it snuggles down for its winter's sleep. It keeps one eye open all the time and there's charm here in the fall that the summer never knows. The shouting and the tumult subside with Labor Day, shorts disappear from the roads leading to the beach, clothes that are faintly reminiscent of horse blankets in bulk and coloring come into their own, people strut around with dogs and shot guns and the aroma of baked beans and fish hash impregnates the bracing air. The nightly blackout of the street lights serves but to intensify the cheerful lights within the scattered cottages still occupied, and after supper there are things to read before the open fire.

Some of us still enjoy this sort of thing. G. H. Are

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Christmas Clubs

More Than Seven Million Members Will Receive $340,000,000 This Season

Three hundred and fifty million dollars will be distributed to more than seven million Christmas Club members by approximately 4700 banking and financial institutions and other organizations during National Prosperity Week starting Monday, Dec. 4, according to an estimate given out yesterday by Herbert F. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas Club, A Corporation, sponsors of National Prosperity Week.

The total distribution for 1939 is about 7% in excess of 1938. The total amount saved, the number of participating institutions, the average per-member accumulation and total number of members enrolled represents a new high since the bank holiday year of 1933. The average distribution per member amounts to $48.80 as against $47 for 1938. The estimates are based on a substantial number of reports received from institutions operating the Christmas Club plan in different sections of the country.

Using reports received in 1938 from individual Christmas Club members and applying these reports to the entire distribution for 1939, the estimated fund of $350,000,000.00 will be used by the recipients approximately as follows:

Christmas Purchases.	$113,400,000
Permanent Savings.	93,450,000
Year End Bills.	49,000,000
Taxes.	33,950,000
Insurance Premiums.	32,550,000
Education, Travel, Charity.	14,700,000
Mortgage Interest.	8,050,000
Unclassified.	4,900,000
	$350,000,000

In the distribution of Christmas Club funds this year, New York State leads the other States with about $107,000,000; the estimates for Pennsylvania are $38,070,000; for Massachusetts, $32,000,000; for New Jersey, $25,000,000. New York's Metropolitan district will receive about $60,000,000. The Bank of America N. T. and S. A. in California will distribute $14,000,000 to 240,000 members. The Bank of the Manhattan Company has $4,250,000 for 90,000 members enrolled at 49 offices in greater New York. The Seamen's Bank for Savings in New York City has an approximate total of $2,000,000; The Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn $1,130,000; The Fidelity Union Trust Company and the Howard Savings Institution, both of Newark, N. J., the Trust Company of New Jersey in Jersey City each have a sum exceeding one million dollars.

Mr. Rawll also stated that the Christmas Club organization was offering, during the early months of 1940, $3500 in cash prizes for a series of short manuscripts that would specifically feature the responsibility of the individual to his Government, Local, State and Federal, in urging
